

Different views of the calendar (as known from paper calendars)

Click on a day marks the corresponding text entry (or entries).

Continuous scrolling possible (so the end of one month and the start of the next can be visible)

Selecting text gives additional actions

Searching hides all lines not in the search result and highlight matching words

As soon as a date is detected in the input, the entry will be sorted in at the right place and the text field will scroll to that place